Busy, Busy, Busy...

The year has kicked off in full swing and we have been busy, busy, busy! The February curtain and blind special was very popular and the team have been out and about doing plenty of measure and quotes. We've been inspired by all the Marie Kondo hype and decluttered the studio during a huge clean up. Uncluttering has definitely helped to clear the mind and we're loving having everything in order. For those of you who have visited us recently you would have noticed that the car park outside has been sealed. YAY – no more lumps, bumps and potholes! Come in and say hi and check it out!

Feather v's Polyester Cushion Inners

There are pros and cons with both feather and polyester cushion inners and we are constantly asked which one is better.

Feather, although more expensive, are very durable and can last at least 10 years with proper care. Simply fluff them daily and they will retain their natural shape and softness. They are breathable with lasting softness and support, perfect for people who intend to spend a lot of time sitting. They are however hard to wash and some people have an allergy to duck feathers.

Polyester inners are more affordable, readily available and easy to maintain. You can simply chuck them in the washing machine when you need to. Polyester is also hypoallergenic for those with allergies. The downside is they have a very short lifespan. Polyester can clump together over time or flatten providing little to no support after just a few years.

It's important to choose a cushion inner to reflect your needs and budget. Talk to our team about the options, we're always happy to help.

Colour Of The Month - Aqua

Aqua is a very popular shade of blue which can be used throughout the home to create peaceful and calming beauty much like the ocean. The possibilities are endless with this stunning colour, whether you want to feature a soft version of aqua on a wall or simply add accents of bright aqua through furniture, accessories or soft furnishings like cushions, curtains or rugs.

Aqua combines well so many other colours too. Try bold colours like red, orange, yellow or pink, earthy tones like brown and green, or your classic whites and greys.
